BARD

Clouds are gone, I open my eyes but the light doesn't shine Fear's inside, memories are gone silent darkens my heart feel alive, want to feel alive

Where's my pride, where is my heart?
sunken deep in the night I try to fly on wings of despair falling thinking I rise
feel alive, want to feel alive

The world is dying, the lamb fears the whip mankind's on its knees Wasted time, feelings die but the chain of slave is strong a burden rots our souls

Fear is gone with the sound of a song I have raised the veil, I decide on my future Minstrel's joy are the notes of his harp under rain, under sun, I'm only a bard

Let the moon be my guide lead my steps in the path of the life while the wind by my side never dies Hear wolves howl at the stars

Nevermore, I won't fear to be locked down alone
'cause I know I've got wings and I won't forget

Fear is gone with the sound of a song
I have raised the veil, I decide on my future Minstrel's joy are the notes of his harp
under rain, under sun, I'm only a bard

Hear the words that I say but forget what they mean there's no way to express what I see in my dreams enjoy the passion that's caught in a chord notes are the words that the heart understands that no one will play this for you but fight and your dreams will come true let the rain wash the tears of your face clear your eyes and a new trip begins

Fear is gone with the sound of a song
I have raised the veil, I decide on my future Minstrel's joy are the notes of his harp
under rain, under sun, I'm only a bard

IN HELL

I'm a victim of destiny Betrayed, deceived, I'm just another fool Don't fear your enemies, beware of your friends Blinded by faith the curtain falls

Poison through Hamlet's veins Blood drops on the cold floor Hate and power are moving the world Now it's time for my revenge

I'm gonna meet you in hell
I'll see you suffer in pain
You cannot stop me my friend
I'm gonna kill you again, in hell
Your blood and your desire
will be cast in the fire
tonight they will burn

Time, it's just a matter of time
Death is patient, you have nowhere to run Second by second your doomsday draws near Baleful but there's no place to hide

What have you done, MacBeth the crown lies on the cold stone Your ambition's a murderous price
I can't wait to hear your cries

I'm gonna meet you in hell
I'll see you suffer in pain
You cannot stop me my friend
I'm gonna kill you again, in hell
Your blood and your desire
will be cast in the fire
tonight they will burn

Ride, ride on the wings of death Madness would be a blessing Your soul will not rest anymore at last it's time for my revenge

I'm gonna meet you in hell
I'll see you suffer in pain
You cannot stop me my friend
I'm gonna kill you again, in hell
Your blood and your desire
will be cast in the fire
tonight they will burn

ROAM IN DARKNESS

I have forgotten how to lead my life has someone else just changed my mind?
I hate this lie despair reigns in my eyes and when the last light fades away another day has died in vain It's so unreal, a dream within a dream

How can you tell if you're awake do you breath air or is it fake you close your eyes you don't ask why [you're blind]

but you are told to be unique what if my thoughts aren't really mine I've lost the hope think of suicide [The eternal sleep of human kind]

Blinded fools who waste their lives
try to think, it's not a crime
your prison's inside
spread your wings and start to fly

The shepherd's crook is always hard the black sheep's punished there's no regard wolf's out my dear
the flock grazes with fear

Don't try to think, there's just one way it's black or white, no shades of grey you can't decide you can't pay to buy the right Blood tears run down an angel's cheek a hopeless heart won't fight nor seek condemned we are, trapped in this lie [who lies?]

Forever roaming in the dark our only hope's to find a spark where is the last king of the blind?
[a blinded fool in Neverland]

In your heart the new day's light
In your eyes the eternal night
Don't pray for mankind
they're just blind and lead the blind

And I, stand here alone waiting as time goes by or is it just another lie?
My heart keeps searching the truth that's inside while my mind hears an angel's cry

Why? why do I smile? is there something to die for?
give me a reason to go on A brainwash banished the hope from the world once again, this is not the end

My dear, what have you done have you flown from the light you didn't care
that's why I cry
and you don't know what is wrong what is right
you didn't care
that's why I cry
and die

Blinded fools who waste their lives
try to think, it's not a crime
your prison's inside
spread your wings and start to fly

In your heart the new day's light
In your eyes the eternal night
Don't pray for mankind
they're just blind and lead the blind

Blinded fools who waste their lives
try to think, it's not a crime
your prison's inside

THE MAIDEN AND THE MOON

Far are the mountains where my steps have gone but the sound of your voice burns deep in my soul

Long is the way that I've walked from home but just call my name you won't be alone

I'll return to you, beloved one
I will find you in my dreams
I'll return to you, beloved one
I will find you in my dreams

Sweet are your words but my heart knows the truth you wanted to go you sailed to the moon

You'll never reach what you seek like a fool and I'll cry because I'm still loving you

I will wait for you, beloved one Through the years I won't forget By uncertain dreams I've been betrayed For my loss the moon I blame

Who am I?
I can't tell Broken mirrors shrouded faces

Where does my fate lead to?
will I ever find my place?

No! What have I done?
Burnt my ships into the truth of my soul
And now I can never turn back

Love! Where have you gone?
Tears frozen into my bones Wizened each kiss for my lost bard

The wind on her skin the hair like a veil the moon in the sky is laughing at her

The maiden looks at her rival's pale face the cradle of dreams has stolen her days

And she jumps smiling to her fate down the cliff she sails away And so far, the lost bard tries to sleep and forgets his maiden's end

Now, young one, be wise and remember my tale to follow your dreams a price must be paid

ELVENFALL

Last ship sails away take my hand now the rest is our goal there is no more sand in the glass hearts are tired of this world

Time of immortal's gone
there will be no more heroes
worth to have a song now the wheel is about to spin and men will lose all their beliefs

ĪĀ ĪĪȳȳȳȳ Īȳȳȳȳ ĪĀȳȳȳ
(Aiya Earendil elenion ankalima)
ȳȳȳȳȳȳ ȳȳȳȳȳȳ Īȳȳȳȳȳ ȳȳȳȳȳȳ (Narkwelion kaltae ómaryo lírinen)

Sail the waves there's no way back our pride has turned into dust Dreams have vanished hope is gone our path has poisoned this world

So we will leave and leave the men, on their own road to misery

Human's path is frail their will is true but the foe is within Heirs of ancient works, could be sane,
their own loss is the greed

Time of immortal's gone
worth to have a song
now the wheel's about to spin
and men will lose all their beliefs

ĪĀ ĪĪȳȳȳȳ Īȳȳȳȳȳ ĪĀȳȳȳȳ
(Aiya Earendil elenion ankalima)
ȳȳȳȳȳȳ ȳȳȳȳȳȳ Īȳȳȳȳȳ ȳȳȳȳȳȳ
(Narkwelion kaltae ómaryo lírinen)

our pride has turned into dust
Dreams have vanished hope is gone

Forget what you leave, just a legacy of pain Snow-white's your hair, and the wheel has turned again

Morning star's fading alone in the woods with the last bloom of Elanor watered with tears the flowers will wither and never again will reborn

Sail the waves there's no way back
our pride has turned into dust
Dreams have vanished hope is gone
our path has poisoned this world

Deep in the night,
I run away, leave mercy behind A new day raises, I open my eyes Eternal glow of stars in the night in Valinor, the home of my kind

Remember what you've done, sons of Feanor
The promise you have made will forever hold The causes of your sins now lay out of reach Your spirit will be wounded forever

Tired is my soul and I'm ready to go There's nothing more I can do I am powerless, fading to memories but I know that relief will come soon It's the end, time to sail away time to sail away, time to sail away...

SING FROM INSIDE

Thousands of words trapped in four hundred lines
Are trying to make a dream come alive
But life is a bit more than some frozen tales
The river is carrying confusion again

Hold your breath and claim for me
Call my name just to wake me up
Don't ask how, let it happen
Face the dawn and remember

And this time I'll sing from the inside
I won't say a thing
I'll just call my dreams
But this time I'll sing from the inside
Cause I did it wrong
Confined to one song
But this time I'll sing from the inside

Pray little boy, that won't earn you salvation It's not after life when you'll suffer damnation
A rose for the dead and a song for the living The smell of the rain hides the blessing it is bringing

Hold your breath and claim for me
Call my name just to wake me up
Don't ask how, let it happen
Face the dawn and remember

And this time I'll sing from the inside
I won't say a thing
I'll just call my dreams
But this time I'll sing from the inside
Cause I did it wrong
Confined to one song
But this time I'll sing from the inside

Clouds are threatening the light, eclipsing the sunshine [Shadows come to life] Fear is soaking your heart, you've fallen from grace

Pain's not a guide
You're just wasting your time While you wait for nothing Expecting a change
Arising laments
Just learning how to surrender

But this time I'll sing from the inside
I won't say a thing
I'll just call my dreams
And this time I'll sing from the inside
Cause I did it wrong
But please don't blame me for all I have done

I hope it's not too late for a change
This could be the dawn of a day

MEMORIES OF THE MISSED

Eight o'clock on your watch watch your face in the mirror of insanity heard a new day was born but you know that today won't raise the sun Why are you still here, have something to live for, or maybe you're just waiting wind to take you down?

Is something inside you?
Or maybe you burnt from the inside?
Keeping only, the memories of the missed

The fire has died and my weapon has turned into ashes Forsaken right now?
Or maybe I was always alone?
I gave all my strength to the Highest but he keeps in silence Forgotten my faith I'm lost but I must carry on

Memories of the missed
[coming from the deepest of my mind]
Memories of the missed
[doubt is chasing, there's no place to hide]
Memories of the missed
[they can't fill the void left by the light] Hope seems out of reach [how will I survive without its guide?]

Can you forget your children crying for mercy?
I fought for you [you fought for nothing]
Shall we reborn?

I must find my place, but I can see nothing [If world's not for you then it must be changed]
Don't know what to do,
I can't wear the power [The only wall I see is the one inside your head]

What the hell am I waiting for?
[You begin to understand] What a shame all this wasted time [Wield your sword and make this world your own]
I will rebel and though I fall [A black death instead of a grey life]
I will have lightened a grey life

Memories of the missed
[coming from the deepest of my mind]
Memories of the missed
[doubt is chasing, there's no place to hide]
Memories of the missed
[they can't fill the void left by the light]
There's no lord but me [Banish the delusion from your shrine]

Traitor of light, the temptation was great [No son, don't you fall]
Your soul succumbed this is hell [I prayed for thee but your lost now]

No!
I rescued my life from this your holy show [Don't forget, where's your place?] and I don't regret [You'll receive your punishment]
I made up my mind and left the void [No way to escape, there won't be compassion]
Life dancing around I even smell the rain [Son, your blood will be shown] pouring from above [Mankind will fear my revenge] washing away my fathers blood [No place for betrayal, for deceit]

So what have I done? have I lost? have I won? I don't really know The deal seems to be, the same that was before the war
The world turns around and the lambs keep asleep in their cradle And no one but me sees they're fed from the corpse of their god

THE STREET DOWNSTAIRS

It's raining as always in the street downstairs She's dancing her bluey waltz again, and you can only stare Melancholy was only a name, you didn't care
The mystery beneath the surface's not worth the game

It's cold out as always in the street downstairs
You look through the window but the fog still keeps your sight in chains
I know you'll say there's nothing to see, don't want to care
You know the world should not be like this, so fucking lame

No one ever heard you screaming No one's out there in the night

There is no door opened in the street downstairs
No footsteps to see, as if they were erased by the rain
And through the years sometimes you'll believe you've seen a face It's hard to feel that feeling again, you'll soon get tired, you soon will forget

LAST CHANCE

It's Monday again, and nothing has changed you look in the mirror and feel yourself strange routine is constantly a weight to be held crushing illusions and choking your yells

But a spark can always arise anything you thought that time had burnt down until the last ash burns out there's always grounds to keep alive alive

Dream again, like life's just a game
Fly away, a phoenix today

And the pain that surrounds you is drifting
away
as you aim for a place in the stars and you feel like a child who is learning to run and the sky seems much closer right now

Joy and laughter, playing everywhere don't forget the time when you were happy and you thought that life were just but dreams

Dream again, like life's just a game

as you aim for a place in the stars
and you feel like a child who is learning to run
and the sky seems much closer right now

Overwhelmed again tied your neck and work becomes a stain

A sleeping star, what a shame burying childhood dreams another grave
you have bowed your head it's the end

Fight for your last illusion and don't don't fear to fail, it's your real last chance to feel alive, it's the time to claim revenge the last chance

Dream again, like life's just a game
wipe your tears away rise your head to the air and cry and cry, and cry

ANGEL WINGS

Tonight you'll forget your sorrows back with your puke tomorrow why holding the line?
when you can fill your hollow life

Try to breath just one more time drawing a line snorting a scythe and mourning

And the game is over
when the day dawn's sober
and the pain floods
in your wasted soul

Once more, fade your problems out in smoke do your eyes gleam without snow?
remember the time, when you were alive and dreaming

Angel wings beneath a knife
[A line of feathers point to grave]
Angel wings rolled in a shroud
A heart is burning down
why choosing suicide?
when you can fill your hollow life

But you thought it was hard to survive you couldn't go through a burning ocean one more dream sacrificed but you don't care, to feel is to die

You said you could flight, your anchored for life tied yourself close, bound to a dose Time to die

And the game is over
when the day dawn's sober
and the pain floods
in your wasted soul

[A line of feathers point to grave]
Angel wings rolled in a shroud
A heart is burning down
why choosing suicide?
when you can fill your hollow life

Once you said, you could fly away from this world but you proved to be wrong you're still alone
Not the king of the night just a fool in disguise But again you said this is what you deserved

WHERE THE OLD TREES GROW

There where the world's grey and green time has stopped passing by each drop of the rain takes a moment to tell that every moment's the same

But outside everything turns to dust
And you should be gone

Go, running you go falling you go far from your home

And even when it finally fades away will you still come to play
where the old trees grow?

Cause outside everything's turned to dust
And it sure is gone
And it sure is gone

Never ending tale that came to its end
The path of the life just runs into death But never lost the faith on seeing you again because maybe I was right

Find me in that place, if you still can go there Call me when I'm lost, I'll be screaming your name For the souls like ours, there's no heaven or hell only where the old trees grow

Where the old trees grow
Where the old trees grow

ORPHAN WITCH DISGRACE

Once upon a time in a cold and raging winter
I first saw moonlight
A castle was my playground and my home
And I thought it would last forever

But one day a handsome knight, broke in and killed my mother A witch she was he justified,
But no one has ever cared of me

Mommy taught me cursing and slowly potion brewing
But not a reason For being alone and never having someone's love
And as time goes by I wonder

I never chose to be hurt
But since I was born I'm left alone
So I'll pay back, all the grief I bear
Welcome fate, I've learned
I've got a surprise for you

Seeking in despair for a trick to fetch a lover Recalled the old style Kidnapped a maiden, the bait has been set So I took her clothes and dressed her in black

But remorse is hurting inside my heart Why must someone die just to grant me love?

I never chose to be hurt
But since I was born I'm left alone
So I'll pay back, all the grief I bear
Welcome fate, I've learned
I've got a surprise for you
